

FERRIC CHLORIDE TEST, URINE
(Chemical)

Note: 1. False positive results can occur due to the presence of Homogentisic acid, Phenothiazines & Acetaminophen

2. Results to be clinically correlated.

3. Positive results should be confirmed by quantitative estimation of aminoacids in blood by Tandem Mass Spectrometry

Use

This test is used for the presumptive diagnosis of Phenylketonuria.